Assignee:	% Done: 100%

Target version: 0.13.0

Description It would be preferable to ignore highlights from certain users/abusers. Most of the highlighted messages are somewhat important, but if someone goes on a rant or a bot notifies me, I wouldn't require a full-on highlight with orange background.

I need this feature, I'm in a lot of channels with bridges between networks, and connections to games and such where I am constantly pinged from my other accounts.

This can be done in 0.13 (as of this comment, -rc1 is out) with remote highlights.

There's a 'Highlight Ignore Rules' tab, which can be used just like a highlight rule, but to not highlight.
