Description

These still need a little work:

- User friendly output (for example the WHO output is printed RAW, needs descriptors and some eye candy)
- Decide to which buffer they should go. (If requested, they should go to the current buffer until "end of XYZ" message)
- Context menus (right click in the Buffer: WHO, WHOIS, Query, etc.)
- not really on topic but more Context Menus: not only in the nicklist, but grab nicks and channels out of the buffer. Easy are the Nicks who say something, but grab nicknames in the MSG body as well to create a link (query) and populate some context menus.
